

Note on text color: for now, instead of 'gold', please use a flashy color such as R100%. Final color still has to be defined.
Font in use: Arial, with extra tracking (20)

Interaction: fade-in 1s.

Interaction: no fade-in. Tap button, next frame appears directly 14:37

To scan the book and display
interactive content, this application requires access to your camera.

Please, grant access to proceed.

Grant access

osct.com

14:37

Thank you!

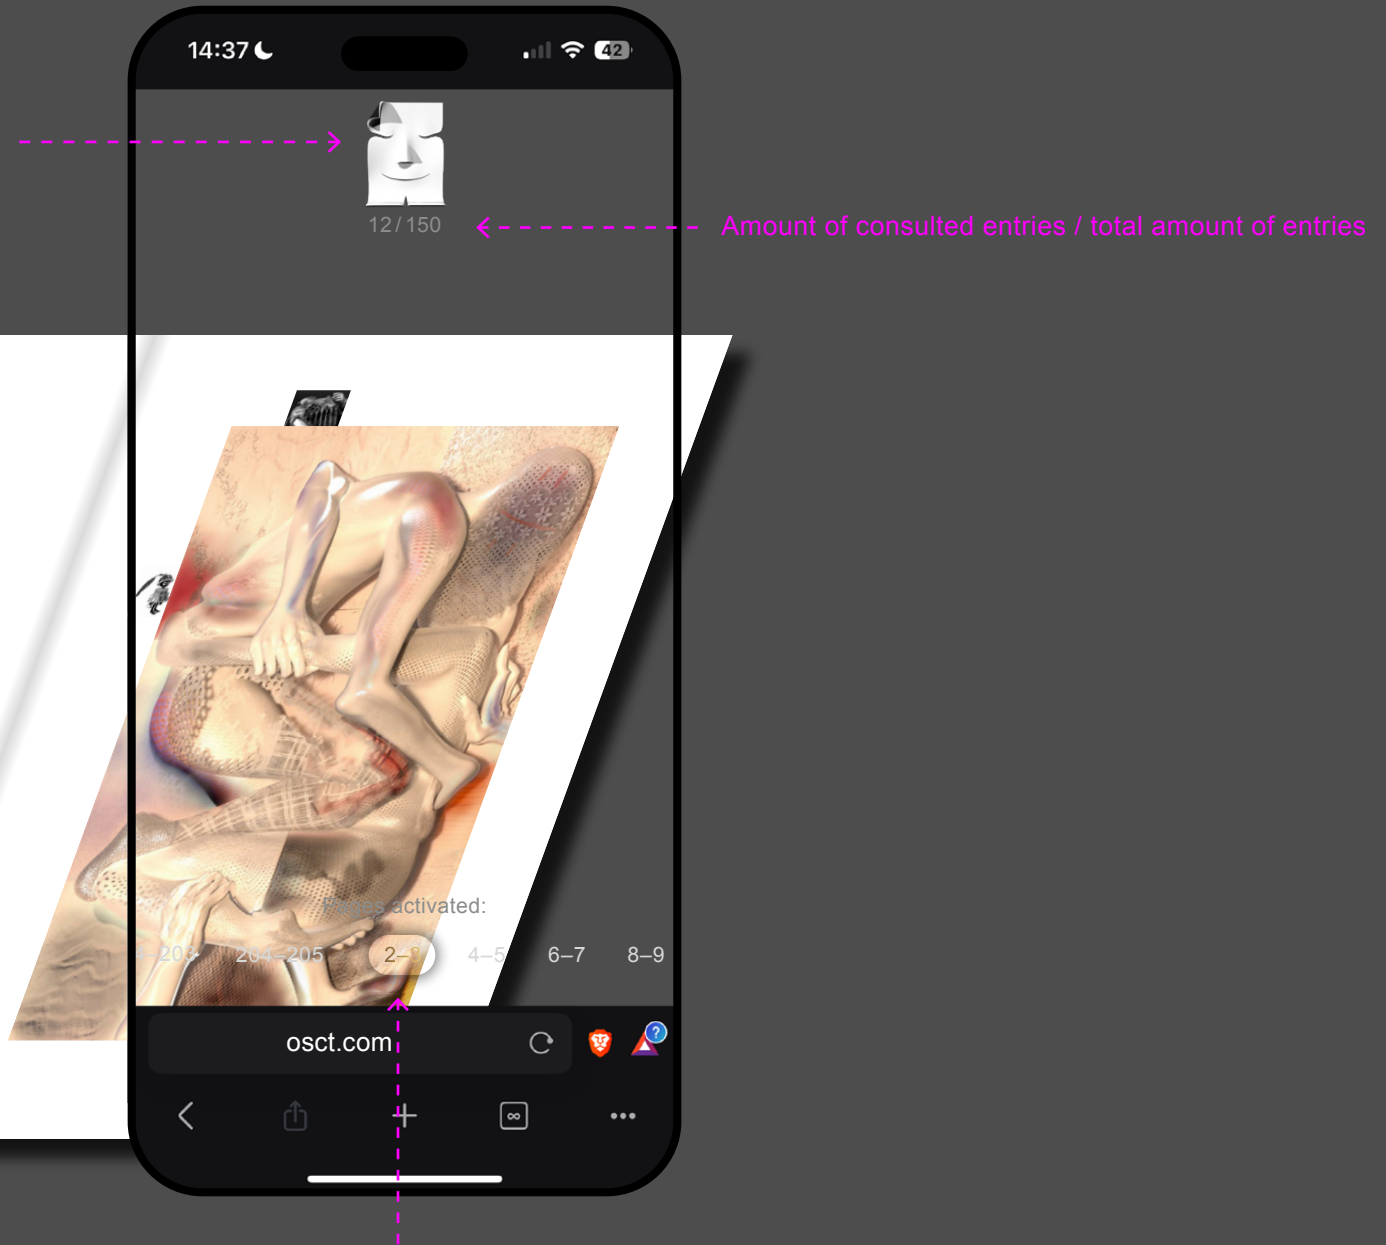

Access scan

osct.com

Our avatar 'Mark the Page' is used as 'home button' and will be animated by K vin. We expect one 'state' in scan mode, one state in consultation mode (entries).

In scan mode, click on Mark to access the consultation mode, and vice versa.

QR mode has been deleted. A scrolling menu at the bottom of the app allows to load content on each spread. Looped scroll (can go left and right), glass look for the highlight button. Can haptic feedback be implemented?

20

21

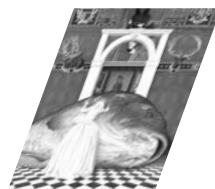

14:37

42

12 / 150

Pages activated:

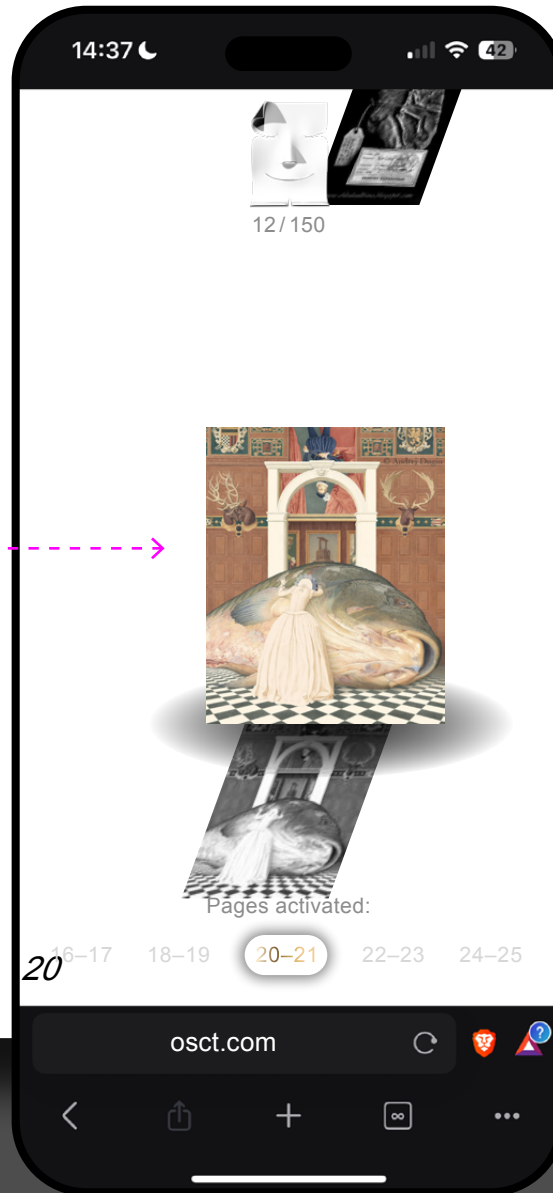

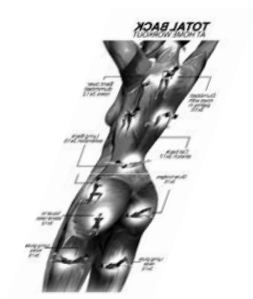

16-17 18-19 20-21 22-23 24-25

20

osct.com

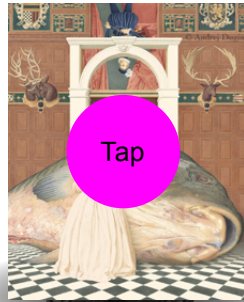

Image linked to the entry, with a dropshadow

12 / 150

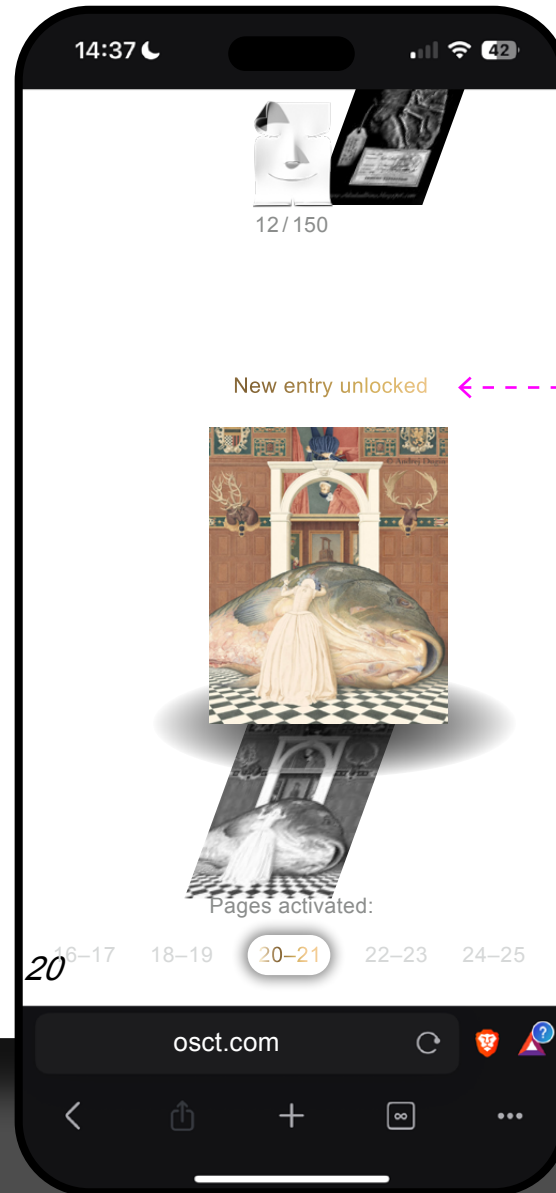

Pages activated:

16-17 18-19 20-21 22-23 24-25

osct.com

New entry unlocked

← - - - - Mention 'New entry unlocked' appears when the entry was not consulted yet. Otherwise nothing, just jump to the entry directly after tapping.

We're thinking about a small animation here, like a rotation. Is it too annoying to program?

14:37

42

12 / 150

New entry unlocked

Pages activated:

20

16-17

18-19

20-21

22-23

24-25

osct.com

14:37

42

12 / 150

New entry unlocked!

Pages activated:

16-17 18-19 20-21 22-23 24-25

20

osct.com

14:37

42

12 / 150

New entry unlocked

Pages activated:

20

16-17

18-19

20-21

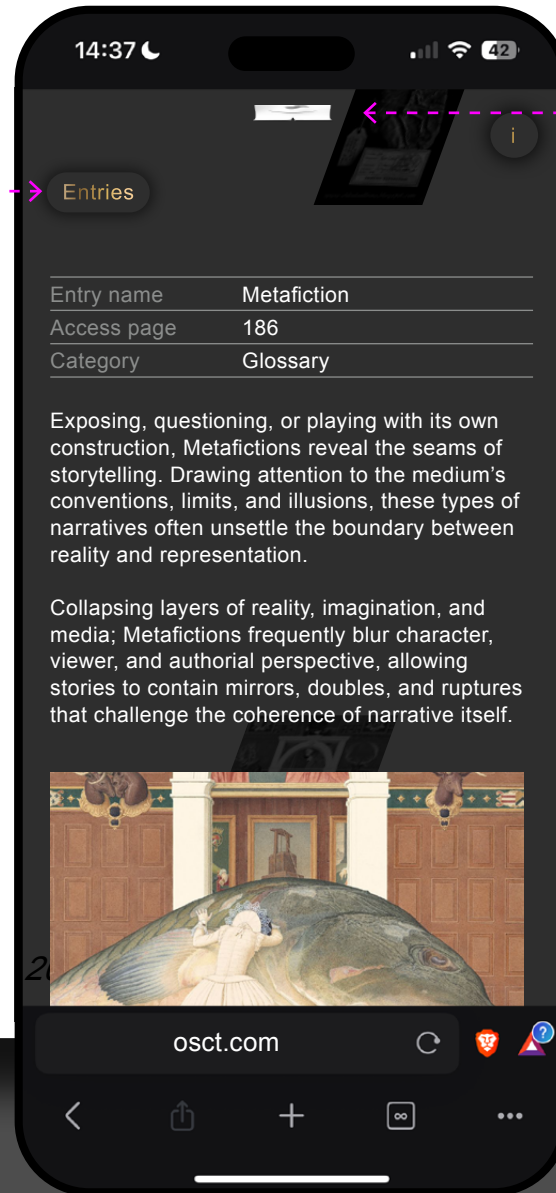

22-23

24-25

osct.com

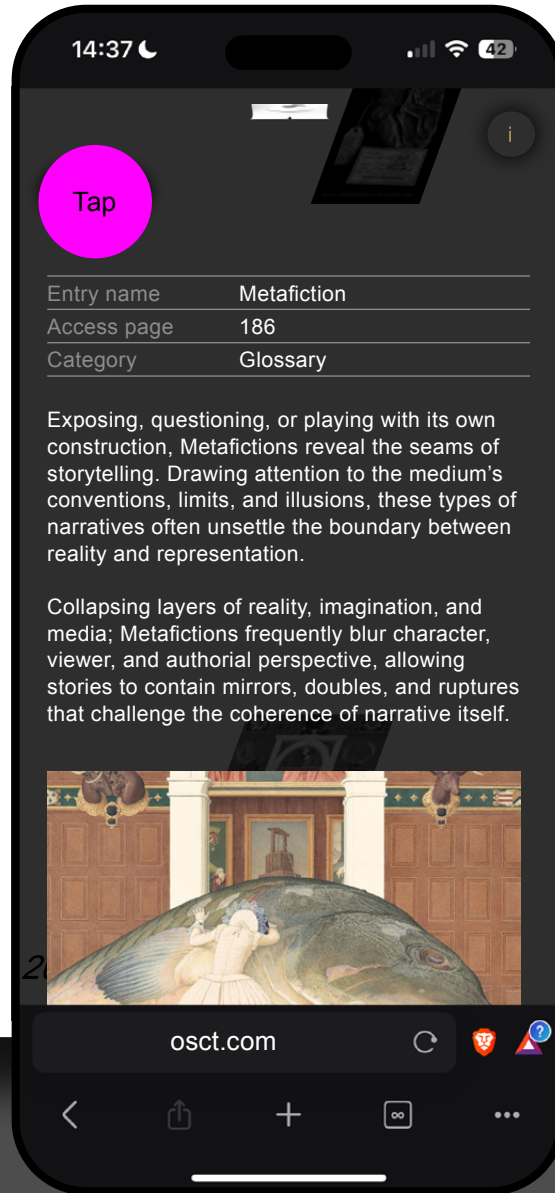

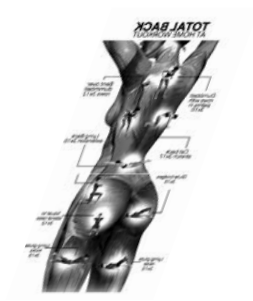

Button 'entries' allows you to go back to the main menu in 'consultation mode'

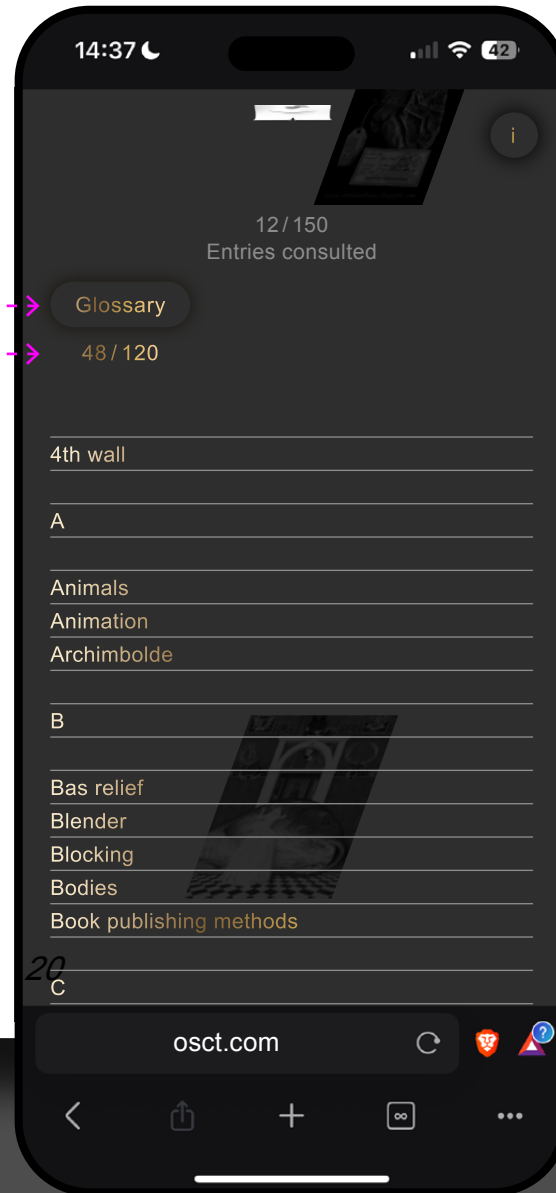

Icon 'Mark the Page' is different in 'consultation mode'. You can click on 'Mark' to go back to the scan mode

Example of one 'glossary entry'

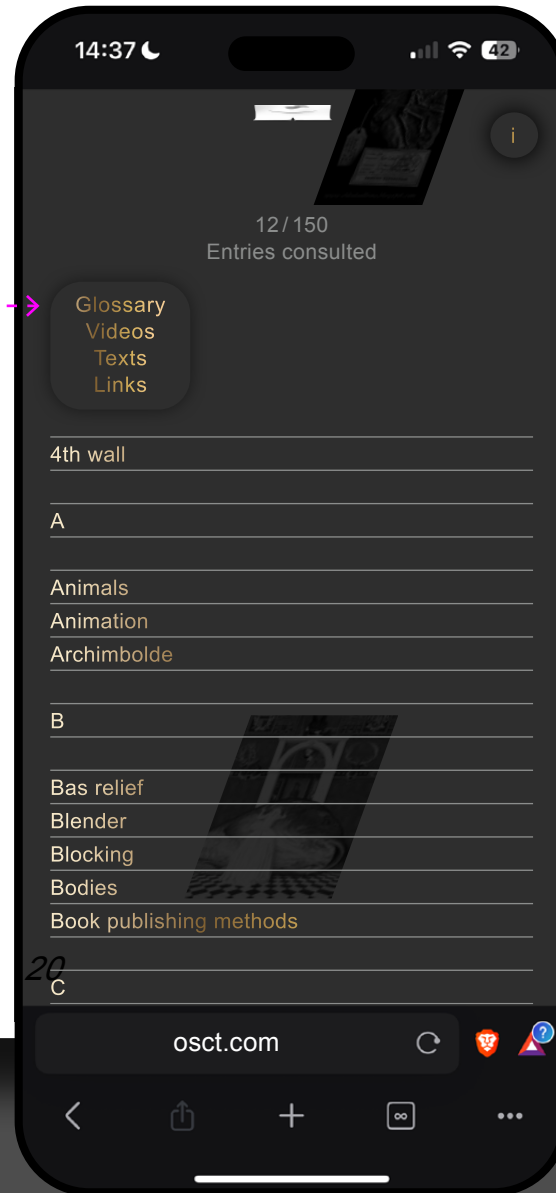

This button acts as a burger menu dropdown.
Enables to show all consulted entries, per category.

Followed by the amount of consulted
'glossary entries' / total amount of 'glossary
entries'

The four different types of entries - - - - ->

14:37

42

Entries

Entry name	Death Jam & Living Juice
Access page	186
Category	Videos

Go to access page 186 in scan mode to see the video.

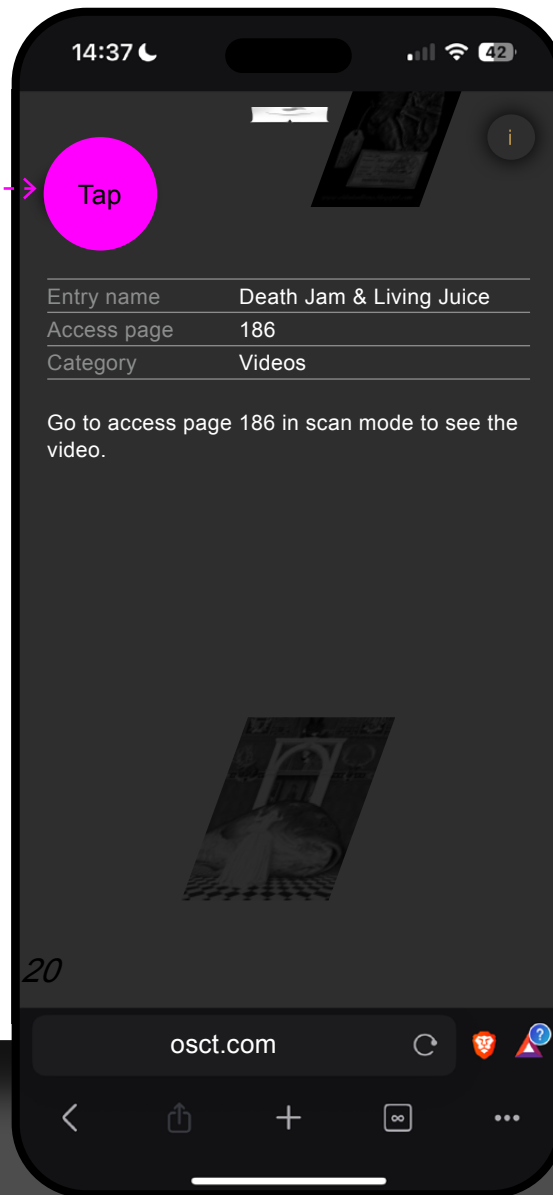

20

osct.com

Tap 'entries' and go back to the 'consultation mode', with the latest category selected

14:37

42

12 / 150

Entries consulted

Videos
Glossary
Texts
Links

'Death Jam & Living Juice', Future Gallery, 2021

'The Interfaced and the Compass', Palais de Tokyo, Paris, 2023

'Protovise', ISO Amsterdam, 2021

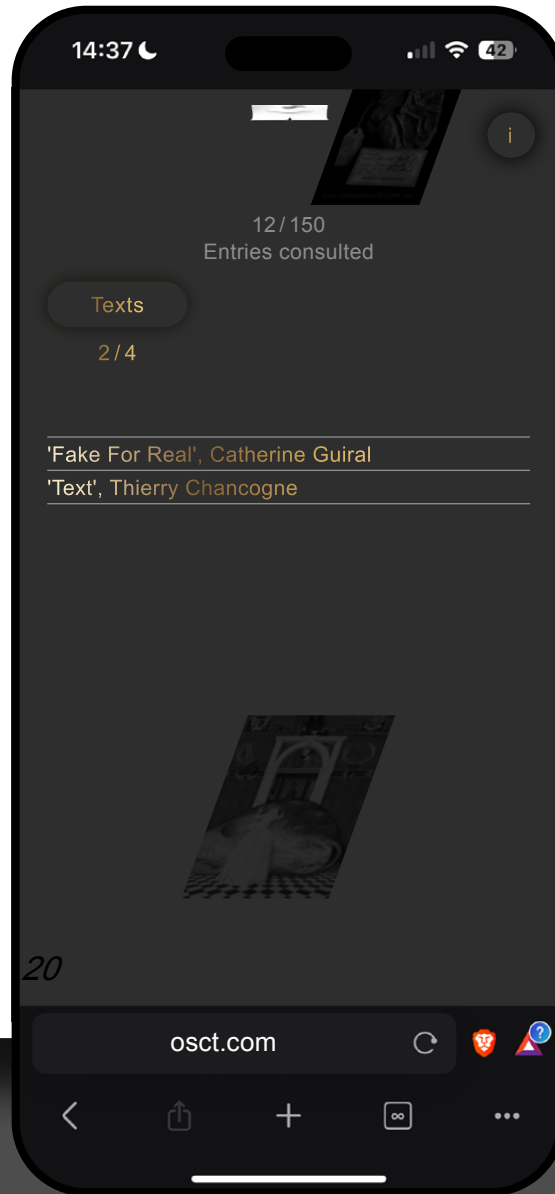

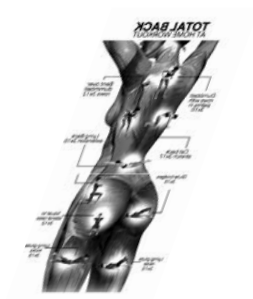

'Transformation of Matter Creates Light',
Upstream Gallery, 2024

20

osct.com

Category 'texts' showcases all texts written about Kévin's work

14:37

42

Entries

Entry name

Fake For Real

Access page

186

Category

Texts

Author

Catherine Guiral

"Fake for Real" is the name of a webzine created in 1997 by Sylvain Bertot, a brilliant music critic specializing in the history of hip-hop and rap. These musical genres share, among other things, a cultural interest in sampling. The term, in its first English usage, "ensample," in the 14th century, derives from the Old French "essample" and has a winding lineage that descends from the Latin "exemplum," meaning extract. It wasn't until the mid-18th century that the noun "sample" acquired a verbal function in English. To sample essentially means to take a piece of a whole, usually for the purpose of study. The English-French dictionary defines "to sample" as taking a sample of.

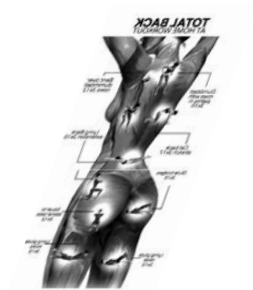

Borrowing the title of an online magazine for a brief essay on the work of Kevin Bray establishes an obvious connection. In the productions of the French graphic designer and artist based in the Netherlands, there is something of the fake for the real. We will also see that the

osct.com

<

+

...

14:37

42

Tap

Entry name	Fake For Real
Access page	186
Category	Texts
Author	Catherine Guiral

"Fake for Real" is the name of a webzine created in 1997 by Sylvain Bertot, a brilliant music critic specializing in the history of hip-hop and rap. These musical genres share, among other things, a cultural interest in sampling. The term, in its first English usage, "ensample," in the 14th century, derives from the Old French "essample" and has a winding lineage that descends from the Latin "exemplum," meaning extract. It wasn't until the mid-18th century that the noun "sample" acquired a verbal function in English. To sample essentially means to take a piece of a whole, usually for the purpose of study. The English-French dictionary defines "to sample" as taking a sample of.

Borrowing the title of an online magazine for a brief essay on the work of Kevin Bray establishes an obvious connection. In the productions of the French graphic designer and artist based in the Netherlands, there is something of the fake for the real. We will also see that the

osct.com

<

+

...

14:37

42

12 / 150
Entries consulted

Texts

2 / 4

'Fake For Real', Catherine Guiral

'Text', Thierry Chancogne

20

osct.com

14:37

42

12 / 150
Entries consulted

Texts
Videos
Glossary
Links

'Fake For Real', Catherine Guiral

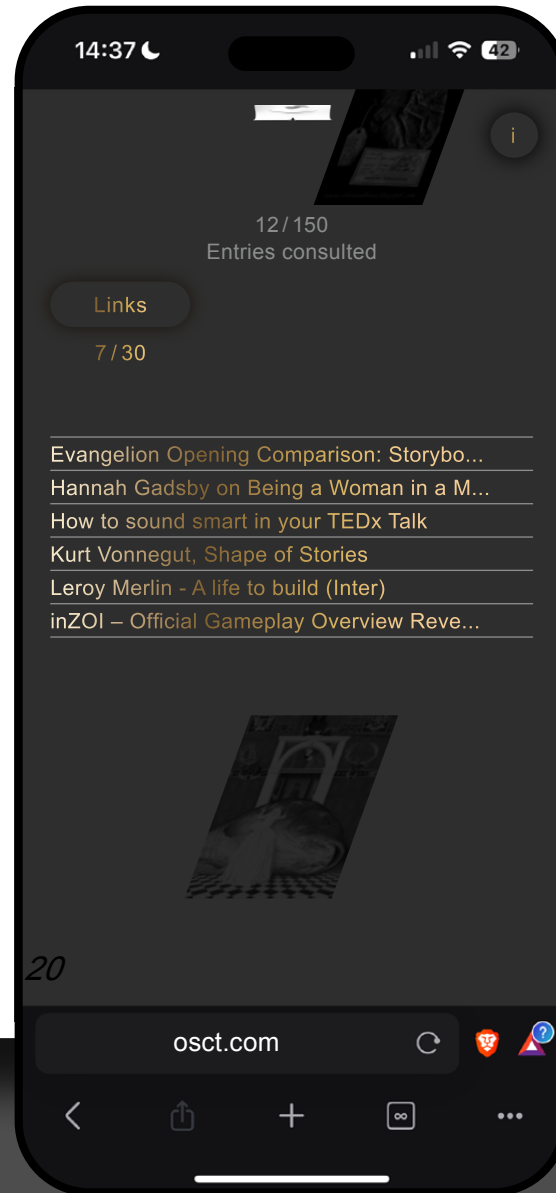

'Text', Thierry Chancogne

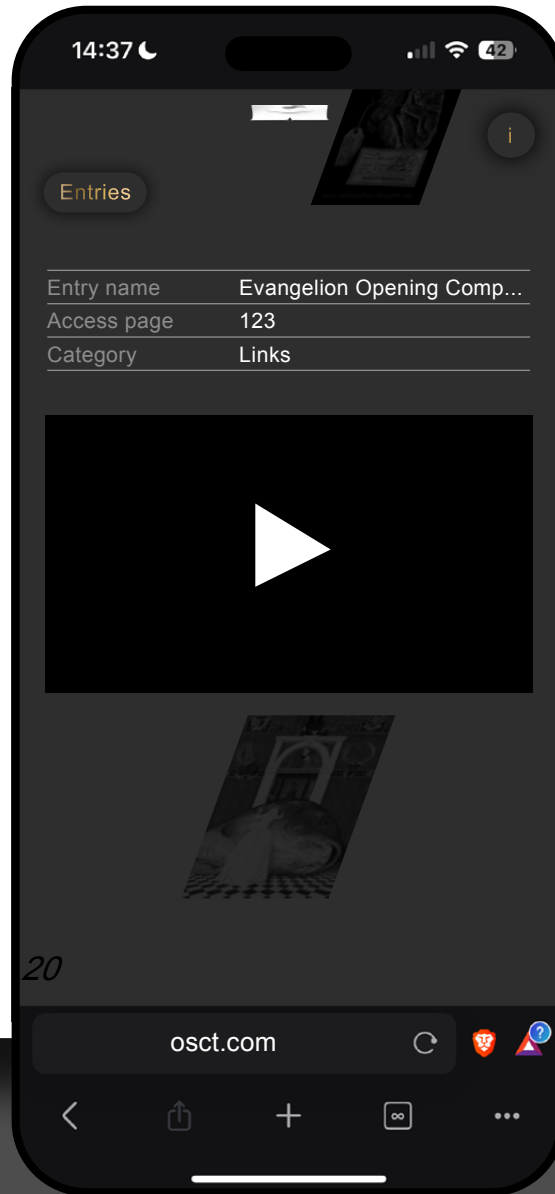

20

osct.com

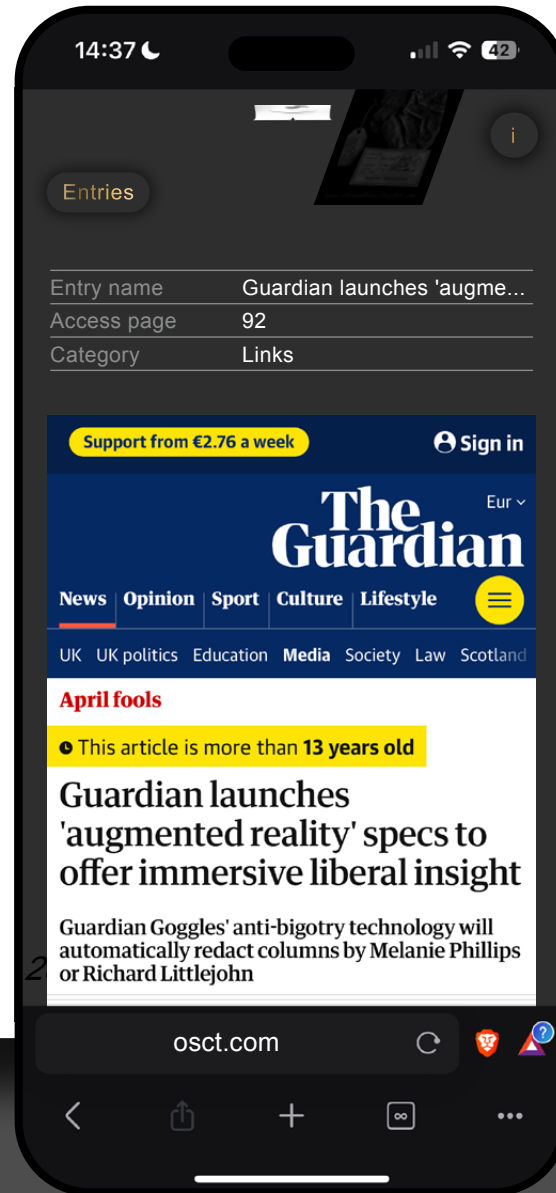

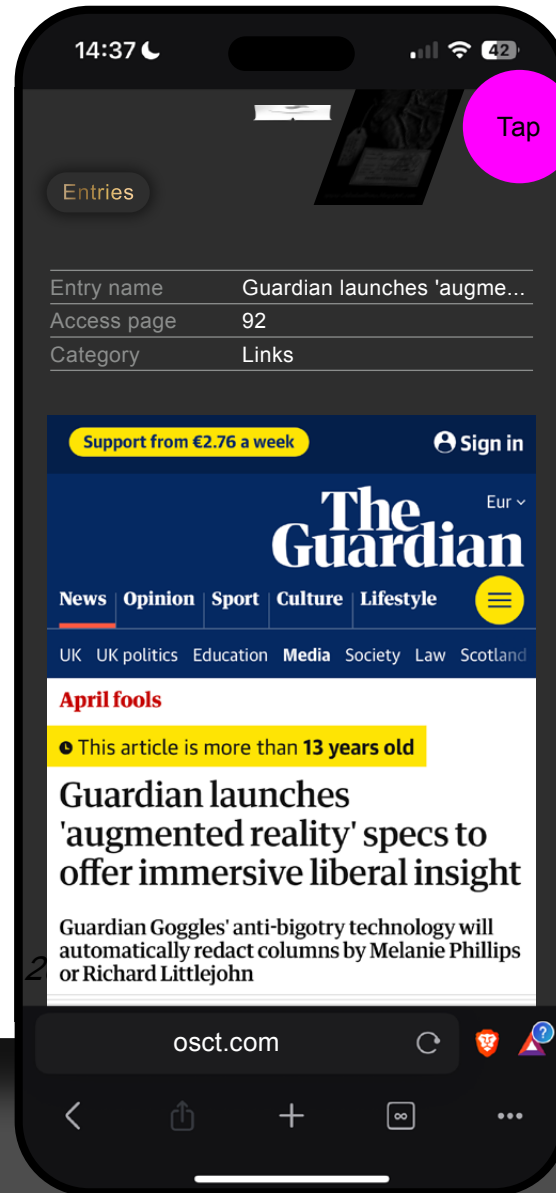

Category 'links' collects all other types of media (eg: youtube links, newspapers articles, online PDFs, uploaded PDFs...)

20

2

Tap

← - - - Info button

Entries

Entry name	Guardian launches 'augme...
Access page	92
Category	Links

Support from €2.76 a week

Sign in

The Guardian

Eur

News Opinion Sport Culture Lifestyle

UK UK politics Education Media Society Law Scotland

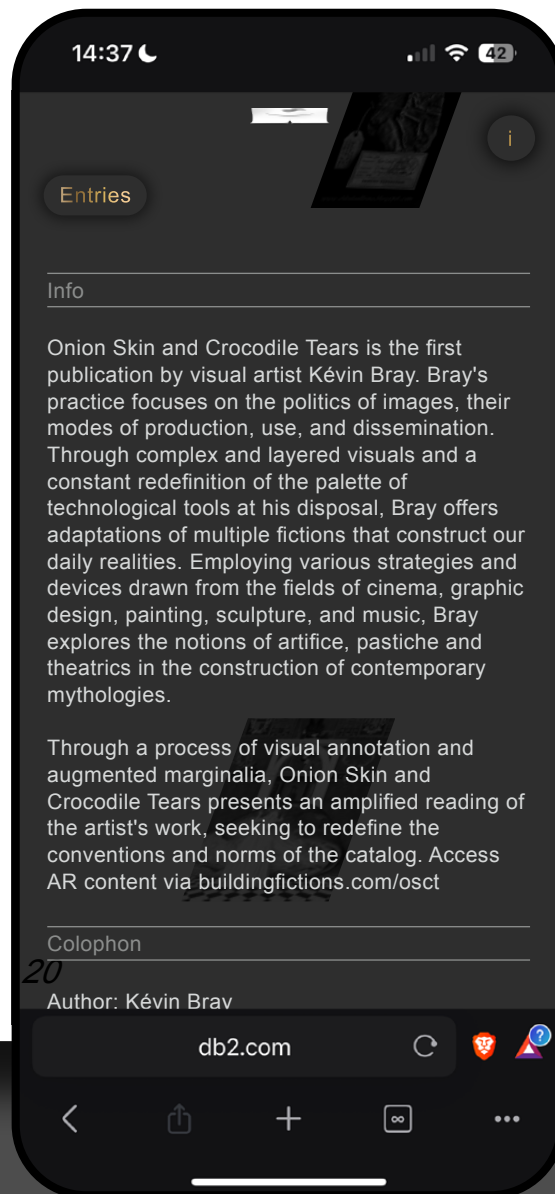

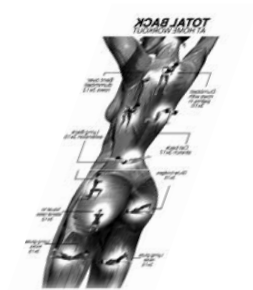

April fools

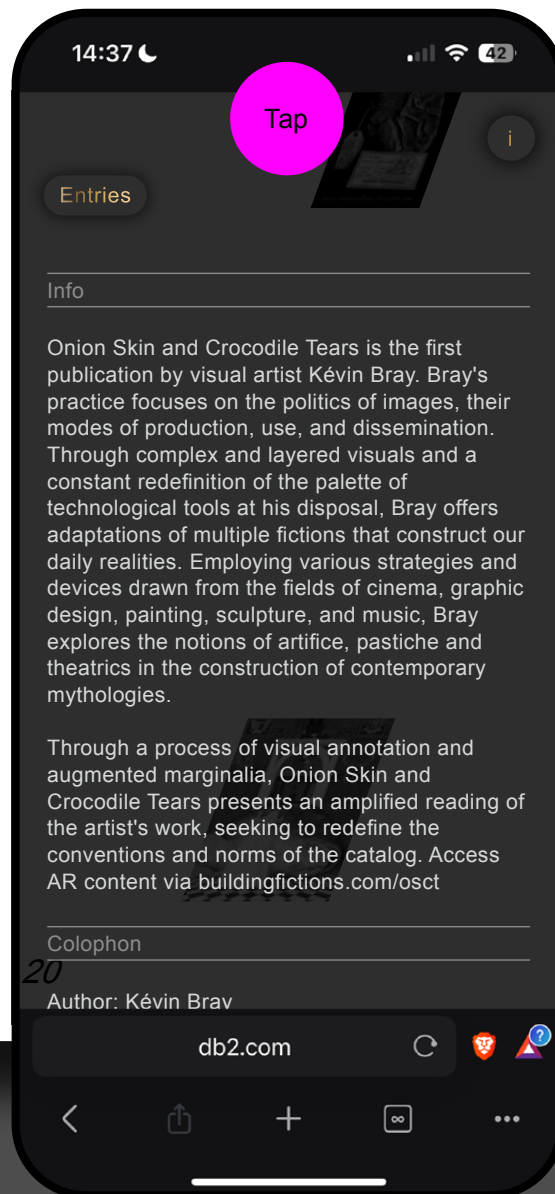

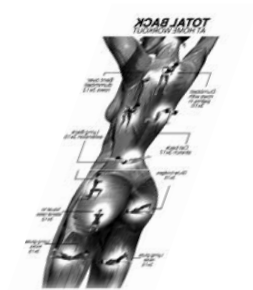

This article is more than 13 years old

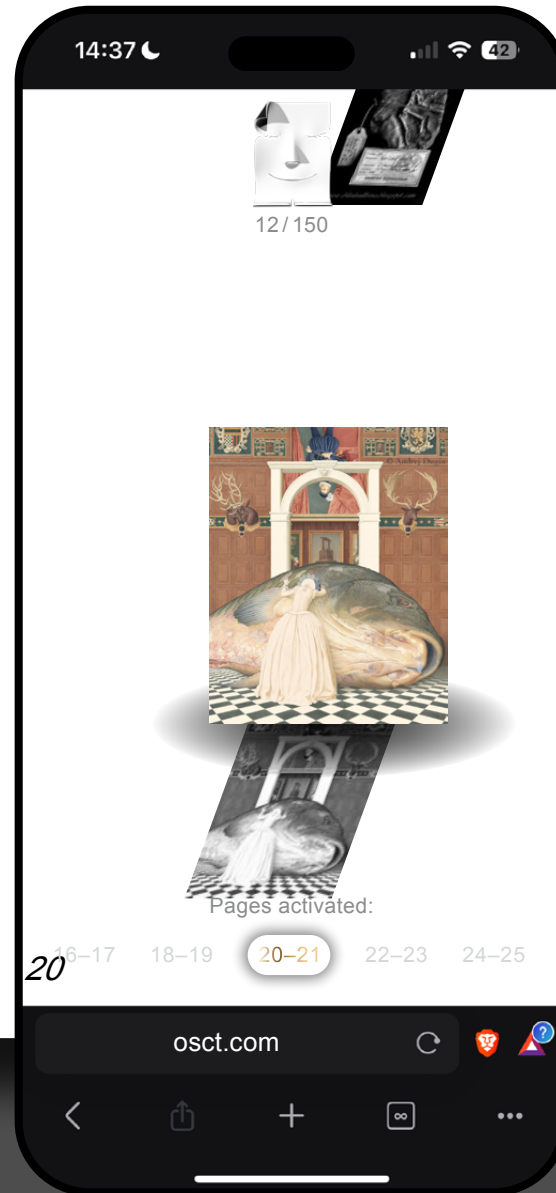

Guardian launches 'augmented reality' specs to offer immersive liberal insight

Guardian Goggles' anti-bigotry technology will automatically redact columns by Melanie Phillips or Richard Littlejohn

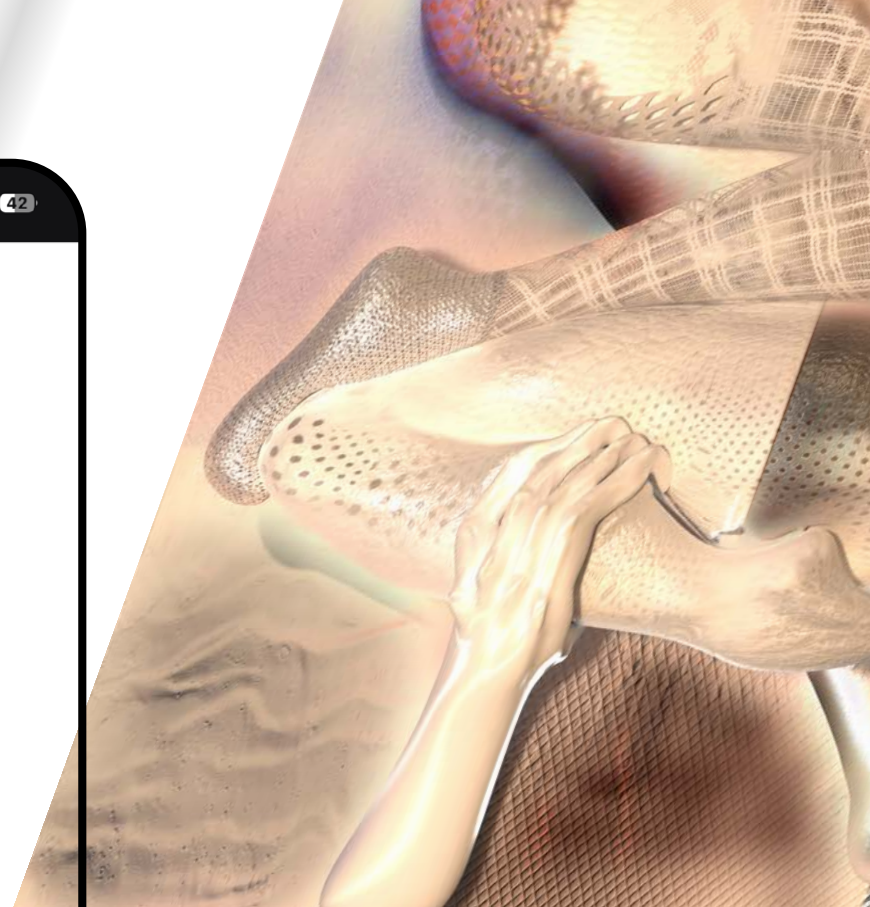

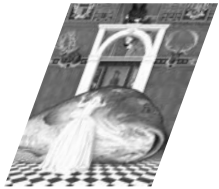

osct.com

Back to scan mode

21

This painting activates a video with a narration by Mark the Page. Does the video start automatically, keeping the same crop?

21

Or do we need Mark the Page to intervene, as a suggestion to tap and zoom out?

21

Or do we need Mark the Page to intervene, as a suggestion to tap and zoom out?

